THE CHAN CENTRE: A DECADE IN PERFORMANCE

welcome

TO THE FALL 2007 SEASON OF THE CHAN CENTRE FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS!

This is an exciting year for us as we celebrate our tenth anniversary season.

We're thrilled to bring you a wonderful collection of classical, jazz, world, pop, and folk concerts, plus great lectures and more. The tenth anniversary celebrations begin early in the season with two Vancouver Symphony Orchestra concerts featuring a fanfare dedicated to the Chan Centre and written by Bramwell Tovey.

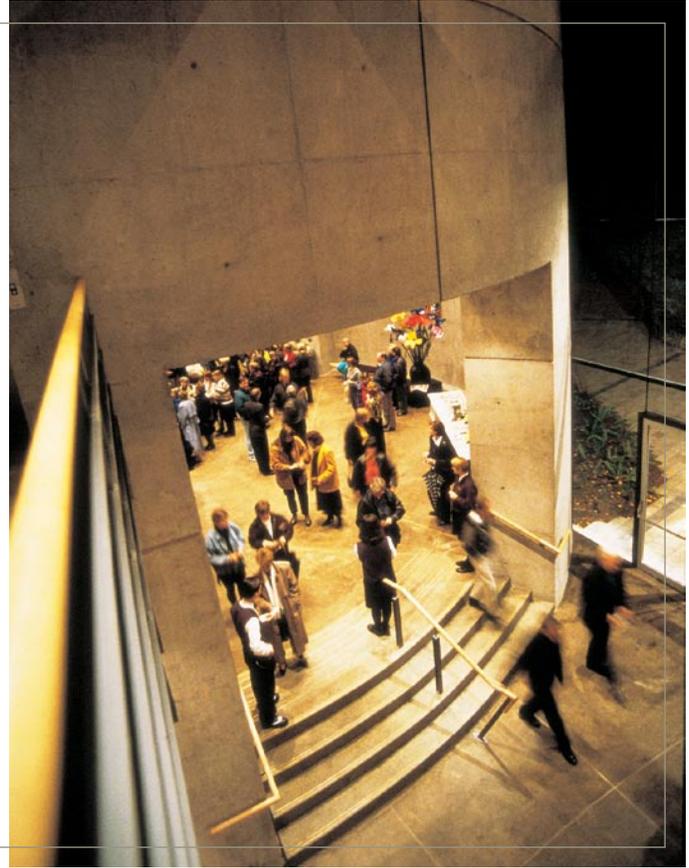

The rest of our fall season is jam-packed with such spectacular shows as the concert hall season opener of renowned mariachi group, Los Camperos de Nati Cano; the Canadian début of Bali's Gamelan Çudamani, and much more. We're also proud to continue our programming in the Telus Studio Theatre this year with a trio of early evening concerts for UBC's campus community and beyond. These concerts will feature local artists and will later be broadcast on CBC Radio Two's Canada Live.

We're pleased, as always, to be working with the many fine co-presenters that you will see listed throughout this brochure. Co-presentations are made possible through the support of the Chan Endowment Fund. The endowment fund, initiated by the Chan Family, was established simultaneously with the opening of the venue. It is vital to the Chan Centre and has supported numerous cultural and performing arts events during our first 10 years. Currently the fund stands at more than $6 million and our goal is to reach $10 million. Your support will enable us to further enhance and diversify our programming, ensuring the continued growth of Vancouver's reputation internationally. For contact information, please see the Support The Chan section at the back of this brochure.

Enjoy the start of our incredible tenth anniversary season—there will be plenty more to come in the spring!

One of the finest mariachi bands in the world, Grammy Award-winning Los Camperos has been the driving force in the North American mariachi tradition for more than 40 years. Led by visionary Natividad "Nati" Cano, this eleven-member group features virtuoso mariachi musicians from both Mexico and the United States. Violins, trumpets, guitar, guitarrón (a small-scaled acoustic bass) and vihuela (a high-pitched, five-string guitar) combine with rich harmonies to create a peerless sound that has catapulted this authentic mariachi from the streets of Jalisco to the finest concert halls across North America. Having garnered international attention for their collaborations with Linda Ronstadt, Los Camperos continues to deliver Mexico's most enduring sones and compelling canciones rancheros (country songs) with technical brilliance and joyous musicality. ¡Buenísimo!

What could be more fitting for the Chan Centre's tenth anniversary than a celebratory performance by our beloved Vancouver Symphony Orchestra and an acclaimed Vancouver pianist? Beginning with Maestro Bramwell Tovey's musical fanfare for this stunning concert hall, these two spectacular evenings will feature award-winning UBC School of Music faculty member Sara Davis Buechner on the piano. Of a recent performance by Buechner, the New York Times wrote: "[she] has it all—intelligence, integrity, and all-encompassing technical prowess." Join us for this music-filled celebration as we toast one of the finest concert halls in Canada with a performance from some of our nation's finest musicians.

Program will include Tovey's Chan Centre Fanfare; Mozart's Overture: Don Giovanni; Bach/Busoni's Concerto in D minor; and Schubert's Symphony No. 5.

Presented by the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra in honour of the Chan Centre's 10th anniversary season

PIERRE-LAURENT AIMARD, piano

Sunday, October 21 at 3:00 pm

Chan Shun Concert Hall

Pierre-Laurent Aimard may be a brand-new name for Vancouverites, but he's already a hot commodity in the world's major concert halls. A keen adventurer, Aimard travels far and wide in his musical interests. Known as "the leading performer of contemporary piano music today," Aimard is also equally at home playing the classics, with Beethoven and Mozart being two of his current favourites. From his award-winning recording of the complete Beethoven concertos to the impossibly difficult Ligeti Etudes, his performances have won him many admirers around the world. Pierre-Laurent Aimard is not your typical pianist, and this is not your typical piano recital—no matter what your tastes, this is a performance not to be missed.

Program will include Messiaen's 8 Preludes; Bach's The Art of Fugue (5 fugues); and Beethoven's Sonata in A flat major, Op. 110.

Co-presented by the Vancouver Recital Society and the Chan Centre

LT. GEN. ROMÉO DALLAIRE

Sunday, November 4 at 8:00 pm

Chan Shun Concert Hall

A true hero and an outspoken leader for the 21st century, Roméo Dallaire is a decorated Lieutenant General who served 35 years with the Canadian Armed Forces. His best-selling book, Shake Hands with the Devil—recently released as a feature film—is a stirring account of his experience as the Force Commander of the United Nations Assistance Mission to Rwanda, which exposes the failures of the international community to stop the worst genocide of the 20th century.

As former Governor General Adrienne Clarkson has expressed, Dallaire's story "[moves] us to come together and express our common humanity...[he has] made us all more human, more feeling, more emotionally attached to people and situations half a world away." We are thrilled to welcome back Lt. Gen. Dallaire for his third inspiring appearance at The Chan.

ÇUDAMANI—GAMELAN MUSIC & DANCE OF BALI "ODALAN BALI"

Monday, November 12 at 8:00 pm

Chan Shun Concert Hall

Considered a national treasure in their native Bali, Çudamani (pronounced Su-da-mani) are sure to become audience favourites here when they make their Canadian debut. This talented ensemble is dedicated to performing and preserving a diverse and rich repertoire of centuries-old dance and music. "Working together with stunning cohesion...as superbly coordinated and as compellingly entertaining as any Western ballet performance" (Los Angeles Times), this extraordinary performance blends ancient music with original compositions in a colourful burst of costumes and dance. Çudamani perform several distinct types of gamelan music (the music of Indonesia) on zithers, xylophones, gongs, lutes and other instruments. The result? A glorious sojourn into the sumptuous sights and sounds of this gorgeous Indonesian island.

MARK O'CONNOR'S HOT SWING

Saturday, November 17 at 8:00 pm
Chan Shun Concert Hall

"No matter what he plays, when you're listening to O'Connor, you know you're listening to genius."
The Seattle Times

No doubt about it: Mark O'Connor can swing. This spellbinding fiddler's Hot Swing tour is a tribute to the indelible legacy of French jazz violinist Stephane Grappelli, one of O'Connor's most important mentors. The legendary Grappelli encouraged O'Connor, now a legend in his own right, to move between styles and genres in order to find his own distinctive sound. Recorded live and released in 2001, O'Connor's Hot Swing! CD has been described as "one of the most spectacular journeys in recent American music" and "brilliantly original." To see and hear O'Connor live is to experience musical genius first hand—don't miss this riveting performance.

Co-presented by the Capilano College Performing Arts Theatre and the Chan Centre

THE WHIRLING DERVISHES OF TURKEY

Saturday, November 24 at 8:00 pm
Chan Shun Concert Hall

Rumi, the 13th century Sufi mystic, ended one of his fervent poems with a prophetic line: "Dazed by the marvels of love, our whirling endures." Founded in his name, the Mevlevi Order has kept the tradition of sema, the whirling ritual, alive for centuries—2007 marks the 800th anniversary of sema culture. A precise choreography, a mesmerizing meditation in motion and a radiant quest for divine illumination set to sacred music, the whirling ritual is one of the world's most exquisite spiritual ceremonies—and no one performs it better than the Whirling Dervishes of Turkey. Twirling 20-30 times a minute, their dance becomes a prayer and meditation that envelops their audience. As an added highlight, the director of the Rumi Foundation, a 22nd generation granddaughter of Mevlana, will make a special presentation about Rumi's life and message.

Co-presented by Global Arts Concerts and the Chan Centre

STEPHEN LEWIS & MICHELE LANDSBERG

Sunday, November 25 at 8:00 pm
Chan Shun Concert Hall

One evening, two incredible speakers. The former UN Special Envoy for HIV/AIDS in Africa, Stephen Lewis is one of Canada's most celebrated humanitarians. His list of awards and achievements is truly staggering: 24 honorary degrees, a Companion of the Order of Canada, Maclean's 2003 Canadian of the Year, a renowned scholar, founder of the Stephen Lewis Foundation...and that's only scratched the surface.

Known as one of Canada's most tireless and effective social justice activists, Michele Landsberg is a highly respected journalist and speaker. A recipient of a YWCA Women of Distinction Award and two National Newspaper Awards during her time at the Toronto Star, she discusses issues that others shy away from or ignore, including the plight of women in developing countries and race and gender equality here at home.

Much food for thought from two of Canada's most inspiring and influential public figures.

Co-presented by the UBC Alma Mater Society and the Chan Centre

Based in Vancouver, this three-time Juno Award-winner is much in demand around the globe for his well-rounded musicianship and virtuosic guitar playing. They not only know how to write a smart and snappy pop song, but they also have the musical chops to back it up: the band's members are all formally trained in jazz and classical music, evident on both their self-titled 2005 debut and the more recent Touch Up. Compared to the likes of Neil Young, Paul Simon and J.J. Cale, Jeremy Fisher is rapidly forging a path of his own in the Vancouver music scene and beyond with his rich, rootsy sound. This promising young troubadour writes some of the most thoughtful, literary—not to mention catchy—music out there today, as featured on his albums Back Porch Spirituals, Let It Shine, and most recently Goodbye Blue Monday. Adventurous in both music and life, Fisher bicycled across North America in 2002 to promote his first album. As this deft and witty storyteller says, "If you don't stand for something, you'll fall for anything." You'll hear lots more wisdom—and plenty of wonderful music—during an evening with one of Canada's brightest musical talents.

TO THE SPRING 2008 SEASON OF THE CHAN CENTRE FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS!

We launched our tenth anniversary season with 15 stellar concerts and events this past fall - garnering rave reviews and welcoming many new faces to our audience. This spring, we have even more in store with a season that's full of incredible programming.

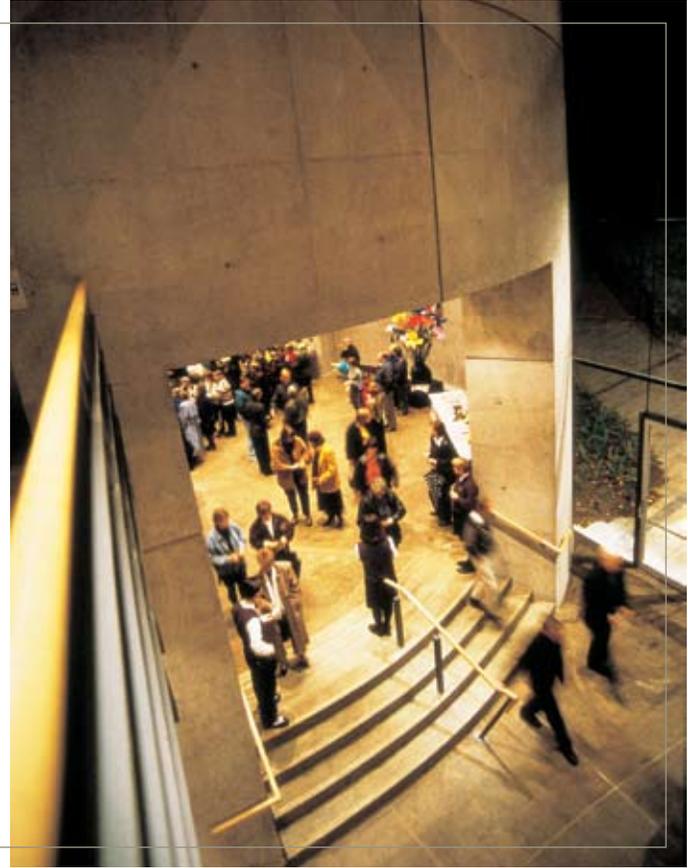

We are thrilled to announce that four of our spring concerts – Le Mystère des Voix Bulgares, Wailin' Jennys / Kelly Joe Phelps, Ornette Coleman and Balkan Beat Box – will be part of the first Cultural Olympiad, an integral part of the events leading up to the 2010 Olympics. Working in partnership with the artistic community, the Cultural Olympiad will showcase some of the most dynamic talent from BC, Canada and the world, in a variety of disciplines. Also coming up, our popular children's concerts return this spring including the great Rob Kapilow in two Family Musik concerts plus a new partnership with Vancouver International Children's Festival to present Dan Zanes and Friends. In the second half of our tenth anniversary season we look forward to showcasing talent from near and far – from local performers Turning Point and Gamelan Gita Asmara to Winnipeg's Wailin' Jennys to Berlin's acclaimed early music ensemble, Akademie für Alte Musik Berlin.

As ever, we are grateful to our co-presenters and sponsors, particularly the Chan Endowment Fund of the University of British Columbia. The interest earned from this fund allows us to bring you an enormous array of artists and events every season; ticket sales alone do not cover the cost of bringing a performance to the stage. We invite you to consider making a donation to this valuable fund so that we can continue to bring world-class co-presentations to Vancouver.

Enjoy this excellent season of exquisite performances!

An international choral sensation, Le Mystère des Voix Bulgares is a 24-voice women's ensemble with a rare vocal gift. They sing a repertoire of traditional folk songs from their native Bulgaria, with modern arrangements featuring complex cappella harmony. Le Mystère des Voix Bulgares was formed more than fifty years ago to enrich the heritage of the Bulgarian folk song by highlighting the music's beautiful timbres, dissonant harmonies and dazzlingly irregular rhythms. In what can only be described as a coup, we bring together a double-bill of two of the most in-demand folk/roots acts in North America today. Featuring the honey tones of founding members Ruth Moody and Nicky Mehta, as well as newcomer Heather Masse, the Juno Award-winning Wailin' Jennys are the sublimely talented trio from Winnipeg that has set a new standard for beautiful harmonies and instantly hummable tunes. On both his eight acclaimed albums and in his live performances, Washington-based singer/songwriter Kelly Joe Phelps has proven to be an artist firmly at the top of his game. With a style strongly rooted in the blues, Phelps' poetic lyrics, resonant voice and strong melodies truly set him apart from his peers. This concert makes for an incredible Saturday evening—two amazing folk concerts in one.

Few creative artists of our time have displayed greater originality or influence than Ornette Coleman. A brilliant and uncompromising innovator, this saxophonist and composer is recognized as one of the most outstanding musicians in jazz history. His numerous accolades include the MacArthur "Genius" Award, the 2007 Pulitzer Prize in Music (for his live album Sound Grammar), and a Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award. Now 77, Coleman last appeared in Vancouver 20 years ago during the Vancouver International Jazz Festival. We're thrilled to welcome back this legendary musician and his incredible band, featuring Tony Falanga and Charnett Moffett on acoustic basses, Al McDowell on electric bass, and his son Denardo Coleman on drums.

This Polish-born, Canadian-raised, world-renowned artist is a true virtuoso, combining brilliant technique with poetic lyricism, and a probing intellect with a great sense of humour. A critical and audience darling, The New York Times has praised his "remarkably fluent technique" and his "playing of rare intelligence, intimacy and a quiet, steady grace." "A magnificent mash-up melding music from every conceivable corner of the globe and its history."
Chicago Sun Times

Ori Kaplan and Tamir Muskat, the Brooklyn-based, Israeli-born masterminds behind the 8-member group Balkan Beat Box, describe their music as "Mediterranean dancehall." Others have described it as "Balkan-inspired electronic urban folk, with hip-hop beats." Fusing Jewish, Gypsy and Arabic styles with hip hop and electronica, Balkan Beat Box continue their musical hitch-hiking as they mix things up with ancient Moroccan and Mediterranean melodies. As NPR said, "the sound of Balkan Beat Box...recalls the Klezmer tradition of going from village to village to weddings and funerals." For this magical performance the Chan Centre is the village, and we're proud to welcome this pioneering ensemble to our home.

Born in Montreal, Lortie made his debut with the Montreal Symphony at age thirteen, and the Toronto Symphony three years later. In the years since, he has become widely revered for his extraordinary command of the piano. His musical output has been staggeringly impressive—he has recorded the complete works of Ravel for the piano, the complete piano works of Liszt and has almost completed the thirty-two Beethoven sonatas. Experience Lortie's exceptional talents as he conducts the CBC Radio Orchestra and performs in this all-Mozart program, which will include the Overture to Don Giovanni, Piano Concerto No. 20 in D minor, K. 466 and Symphony No. 39.

ROBY LAKATOS ENSEMBLE

Saturday, March 29 at 8:00 pm

"...immense control and exuberant inventiveness that def[ies] belief." The Daily Telegraph

Get ready for a spicy goulash of wonderful music when Gypsy violinist extraordinaire Roby Lakatos and his ensemble take to the stage. Whether performing classical, jazz or the folk music of his native Hungary, Lakatos defies definition. A composer, arranger, 19th century throwback and a fiddler of "finger-blurring virtuosity," his performances at the great halls and festivals of Europe, Asia and America have drawn a worldwide following. Thrill to the sounds of this sizzling violinist and his fiery ensemble as they make their much-anticipated Vancouver debut.

NIKOLAJ ZNAIDER, violin
with ROBERT KULEK, piano

Sunday, March 30 at 3:00 pm

"Heroic technical command, deep musicality and great expressive depth." The Chicago Tribune

Widely celebrated as one of the foremost violinists of today, Nikolaj Znaider is regularly invited to work with some of the world's most prominent artists and leading orchestras including Daniel Barenboim, Lang Lang, the London Symphony Orchestra and the New York Philharmonic. Unafraid of emotion, the Danish-born Znaider dazzles audiences and critics alike with his "extraordinarily intelligent, soulful and impassioned" performance style. A recital by Znaider is violin playing at its most delectably romantic. Don't miss this chance to hear Bach, Beethoven and Brahms on a 1704 Stradivarius.

BRYN TERFEL, bass-baritone
with MALCOLM MARTINEAU, piano

Saturday, April 12 at 7:30 pm

"A voice in a billion." The Times

One of the world's most recognized vocal performers, Welsh bass-baritone Bryn Terfel rose to prominence when he won the Lieder Prize in the 1989 Singer of the World Competition. Since then he has sung Mozart and Wagner, Puccini and Stravinsky, Verdi and Britten in the world's greatest opera houses. A tremendously versatile artist, Terfel is equally at home with Schumann lieder as he is with traditional folk songs and Rogers and Hammerstein tunes. Combine this versatility with his "immaculate diction, commanding stage presence and flair for acting," and you've got the sort of vocal recital from which dreams are made.

In addition to their sold-out series at the Berlin Konzerthaus, they appear regularly in the great concert houses of Europe. Join us as we heartily welcome the Akademie für Alte Musik Berlin for their first Canadian appearance, with a varied program that includes Bach, Vivaldi, Marcello, Graun & Erlebach.

FAMILY MUSIK: THE FOUR SEASONS

Sunday, May 4 at 3:00 pm

Spring, summer, fall and winter - the changing seasons have inspired artists, poets and composers for centuries, and now they've inspired musical genius Rob Kapilow too. With the Vancouver Family Musik Orchestra, a chamber chorus, a narrator, and two professional dancers, Kapilow will explore the vivid diversity of the seasons and of the human experience itself. Although Vivaldi's famous concerti of the same name are the highlight here, this engaging presentation also includes music from Tchaikovsky's The Seasons, a chamber work by British composer Larry Ashmore, poetry by e.e. cummings and more. The Four Seasons has plenty of opportunities for kids to participate, including on-stage improv with the dancers as well as in-seat learning, grooving, and laughing. Join in the fun!

Co-presented by Music in the Morning and the Chan Centre

This concert is recommended for ages 5 and up.
