Kronos at 40

SATURDAY OCTOBER 19 2013 at 8pm

Long-time Chan Centre audience favourites, the Kronos Quartet will give the world premiere performance of a new string quartet by pre-eminent composer Philip Glass to kick off our 2013/14 season. The new work is co-commissioned by the Chan Centre in honour of Kronos' 40th anniversary season.

Four decades of experimental creation and performance have made the Kronos Quartet one of the most recognized and celebrated ensembles in the world. Their impressive list of accolades includes the Avery Fisher and Polar Music Prizes, as well as a GRAMMY award for Best Chamber Music Performance. Their collaborators include iconic and diverse artists such as John Adams, Allen Ginsberg, David Bowie, Tanya Tagaq, Asha Bhosle, Wu Man, and Homayun Sakhi, who shared the Chan Centre stage with Kronos in 2011.

Dal Grauer Memorial Lecture: Philip Glass will give an exclusive lecture for ticketholders, which will take place at the Chan Centre prior to the 8pm concert. Full details at chancentre.com.

Mariza

SUNDAY OCTOBER 27 2013 at 7pm

The consummate chanteuse and living voice of fado, Mariza, shares an intimate and evocative evening of song. This highly anticipated return to the Chan Centre follows 2009's sold out engagement. The Portuguese-Mozambican artist grew up listening to and singing the yearning, keening sounds of fado music in the streets and tavernas of her native Lisbon. Through impassioned concerts and critically-acclaimed recordings, she has drawn attention to this traditional musical genre making it an internationally recognized art form.

Mariza's live performances weave her vibrant, soulful voice and graceful, commanding presence into a singular, unforgettable experience. Her Vancouver visit is part of a five-continent world tour, in which she will give striking, dramatic voice to her greatest hits and favourite songs from throughout her illustrious career.

Rokia Traoré

SUNDAY NOVEMBER 17 2013 at 7pm

Africa's most adventurous songstress makes a long-awaited return to the Chan Centre. The daughter of a Malian diplomat from the Bambara ethnic group, Rokia Traoré travelled widely as a young woman and was exposed to a variety of musical and cultural influences.

The impact of this unique upbringing is ever-present in her spirited, surprising music, which playfully integrates elements of blues, rock, and pop with traditional African instruments and sounds. Known for her engaging live performances, whether playing uptempo guitar-led pop or haunting and melancholy ballads, Traoré's striking presence on stage draws audiences in.

Her critically acclaimed 2013 album, Beautiful Africa, is a love song to her birthplace; acknowledging both its majestic splendor and anguished challenges. In its five-star review of the album, The Guardian describes Traoré as "Africa's most inventive singer-songwriter."

Danse Lhasa Danse

SATURDAY JANUARY 18 2014 at 8pm

This multidisciplinary evening lovingly honours the life and work of Montreal-based folk musician, Lhasa. Bringing seven dancers, four singers and five instrumentalists together on one stage, artistic visionary Pierre-Paul Savoie's Danse Lhasa Danse seamlessly melds concert and dance performance into a powerful and profound tribute.

On New Year's Day in 2010, the husky-voiced singer-songwriter lost her battle with cancer at age 37. Despite being cut short, Lhasa's career earned tremendous critical acclaim, including multiple JUNO and BBC Awards, and a loyal community of fans through numerous tours and the release of three celebrated albums. After her passing, Savoie was inspired to gather an esteemed group of Canadian choreographers, visual artists, dancers, and musicians, including the members of Lhasa's original band, to collaborate on this beautiful, poetic work.

Co-produced by PPS Danse and Coup de coeur francophone.

Jazz at Lincoln Center
Orchestra with
Wynton
Marsalis

SATURDAY MARCH 01 2014 at 8pm

New York's best visit the West.

In 1987, world renowned trumpeter and composer Wynton Marsalis co-founded a program at Lincoln Center, which would grow into a cornerstone of the international jazz community and produce the spectacular Jazz at Lincoln Center Orchestra (JLCO). Under Marsalis' direction, the JLCO will perform repertoire across the full jazz spectrum: modern renditions of traditional favourites including tunes by Thelonious Monk, Herbie Hancock, Joe Henderson, Jackie McLean, Lee Morgan, and an array of compositions and arrangements by jazz contemporaries including members of the JLCO.

Hailed as "the finest big band in the world today" by the Daily Telegraph, the Orchestra's lush, polished tone will transport audiences and set feet tapping with brassy, swinging sound.

This concert is not part of any subscription packages. Subscribers can purchase tickets in advance of the general public. See page 12.

SamulNori

SATURDAY MARCH 15 2014 at 8pm

This Chan Centre debut promises an engrossing evening of driving, syncopated sound and animated theatricality. Hailing from South Korea, the kinetic ensemble of master drummers and dancers presents a visually stunning cultural expression in the tradition of past Chan Centre favourites Çudamani and the Whirling Dervishes of Turkey.

SamulNori's unique style of percussion originated in farmers' bands, a folk tradition central to Korean heritage. Over a remarkable 35 years, the ensemble has built upon this tradition, developing their individual sound into the powerful music and pageantry they share around the globe.

Praised as "an experience that matches unsparing energy and technical mastery with a strong sense of spirituality" by The Los Angeles Times, SamulNori is a feast for the senses that should not be missed.

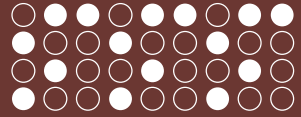

Béla Fleck and Abigail Washburn

SATURDAY MAY 10 2014 at 8pm

Two of America's finest banjo players start a bold new chapter, as the husband and wife team tour together for the first time. The duo will present music developed together, featuring an eclectic mix of traditional and original compositions.

Fleck is internationally renowned for his endless innovation; in his last performance at the Chan Centre in 2009 he shared the stage with tabla master Zakir Hussain and virtuoso bassist Edgar Meyer. Through unconventional cross-genre collaborations, Fleck has fostered widespread appreciation and new understanding for his chosen instrument.

Washburn is an enormously celebrated singer, songwriter, and clawhammer banjo player. Fascinated and well-versed in Chinese culture, she has revolutionized the 'old-time' genre through sophisticated integration of Chinese musical traditions.
