Maestro Bujar Llapaj

Albanian-born, multi-award winning conductor Bujar Llapaj is a prominent figure in the Balkan classical music scene. He received his formal training at the Academy of Arts in Tirana and the Conservatoire National de Rueil Malmaison in France.

He was appointed as the Principal Conductor of the West Coast Symphony Orchestra in 2008. Bujar has conducted concerts throughout Europe and he still travels abroad as a guest conductor. Bujar is known for his dedication to the pursuit of excellence in music and music education. He acted as the artistic director of the Albanian National Theater of Opera and Ballet where he featured performances of music by famous composers like Mozart, Rossini, and Verdi, as well as hosted world premiers of works by upcoming Albanian composers. Bujar also founded the New Philharmonic Orchestra where he acted as both the artistic director and conductor. Before his moving to Canada, Bujar was the department chairman of conducting and singing at the Academy of Arts in Tirana, where he developed new programs in conducting and pedagogy.

WEST COAST SYMPHONY

The West Coast Symphony, formerly the Vancouver Chamber Players, was originally founded in the early 1970s as an amateur string orchestra. Performing the masterpieces of the string literature and a variety of lighter fare, the group gave 20 to 25 free concerts per year in venues such as churches, hospitals and long-term care facilities.

Over the years, the group added woodwinds, brass, and percussion until it became a full-fledged Orchestra in the mid 1980s. In 1992, the West Coast Symphony Society was formally incorporated under the Provincial Societies Act, becoming a Charitable Organization registered with the Canada Revenue Agency.

The Orchestra now presents 7 programs each season, primarily in the Lower Mainland, but also in outlying areas such as Bowen Island, Whistler and Vancouver Island. Not forsaking its origins, a number of small chamber ensembles made up of musicians from the orchestra perform regularly throughout the year. Membership in the Society is open to musicians of high calibre.

The West Coast Symphony Society is operated by an elected Board of Directors comprised of members of the Orchestra. Financially, the Orchestra depends on donations from individuals and businesses, as well as membership dues. The musicians receive no pay for their services; their reward is in the preparation of quality musical programming to share with the community.

Carolyn Feng

Caherine Rollin: Concerto in C Major (1st mvt)

Carolyn Feng is a eleven-year old pianist and vocalist with a strong enthusiasm for the arts. From the tender age of five, music has been an integral part of her life. In that same year, she joined the renowned Bach Choir, further solidifying her love for musical expression. Also at age five, she embarked on her piano journey at HY Music School , discovering the joy of creating music through both her voice and her instrument.

Carolyn is a polite, inquisitive, and kind young lady who consistently strives for excellence in her musical pursuits. She delights in performing for audiences, but equally cherishes the moments spent playing and singing for her own enjoyment.

Her achievements include:

* 3rd Place - 2023 Crescendo
International Music Competitions

* 2nd Place - 2024 Little Mozart Competitions

* 2nd Place- 2025 Crescendo
International Music Competition

* Royal Conservatory of Music
Examinations: First Class Honors
in all completed levels.

Beyond her musical talents, Carolyn enjoys expressing her creativity through drawing and exploring new worlds through reading. While she appreciates downtime with television, her true ambition lies in becoming a renowned artist.

Eddie Meng

Haydn: Piano Concerto in D Major,
Hob. XVIII:11 (3rd mvt)

Eddie Meng, a vibrant middle school student, discovered his passion for music at the tender age of five. He initially learned vocal music outside of school in both English and Chinese. In school, he played the recorder and ukulele in music class and the saxophone in the school band at Richmond Christian School for several years. However, he has always been deeply devoted to the piano. Eddie has consistently achieved First Class Honors in the RCM piano exams from Grades 5 to 9 and is currently preparing for the Level 10 exam.

In the summer of 2019, he first attended the Grosseto Music Festival and Piano Courses, followed by the Talent Music Summer Courses with masterclasses in Music Performance in Brescia, Italy. Later that year, he participated in a Piano Master Class performance in Hamamatsu, Japan.

Visiting the Hamamatsu Museum of Musical Instruments deepened his knowledge of early piano works and enhanced his understanding and performance skills of piano repertoire from various periods.

In 2022, he achieved second place in the Vivace International Piano Competition in Paris, France. This accomplishment boosted his self-confidence and helped him identify areas for improvement and future goals.

After placing second in the International Little Mozart Music Competition in 2021, he performed at Carnegie Hall in New York in February 2023 as a finalist in the Crescendo International Competition.

In the summer of 2023, he immersed himself in intensive piano training programs in Vienna and New York City, studying under renowned professors from the University of Music and Performing Arts Vienna and The Juilliard School.

He actively participates in various performances, including Chinese New Year, Father's Day, Mother's Day, charity events, and Christmas celebrations.

In addition to his love of music, he has committed himself to academic pursuits and sports such as swimming and skiing. Looking ahead, Eddie Meng remains focused on expanding his musical prowess and excelling in both academics and athletics.

Olivia Peng

Kabalevsky: Piano Concerto in D major No.3, Op.50 (3rd mvt)

Olivia Peng she is an 12-year-old girl known for her warmth and enthusiasm, has developed a strong dedication to the arts. Over the past six years, she has been studying piano under the guidance of the talented Ms. Huan, whose mentorship has helped Olivia discover her passion for music. Olivia is currently working toward completing the RCM Level 10 course and plays piano for her school's choir.

Her musical efforts have been recognized through awards such as the 1st and 2nd prizes at the Little Mozart Music Competition in 2019 and 2021, as well as the Canadian Young Artist Standards of Excellence Award in 2021.

In addition to her musical journey, Olivia has a deep appreciation for Chinese traditional culture. She has been learning Chinese classical dance for 4 years and practicing Chinese calligraphy for 3 years. Olivia's dedication to dance has been rewarded with 1st and 2nd place finishes in the Solo Competition at the Shine Dance Festival and Surrey Festival of Dance in 2022.

Olivia also enjoys skiing and drawing, adding to her diverse range of interests.

Martina Gao

Beethoven: Piano Concerto in C minor, Op.37 (3rd mvt)

Martina Gao is an ambitious, and imaginative young female artist who brings passion to her pursuits of performance. Starting her musical journey at the age of 4, Martina distinguished herself as a talented pianist.

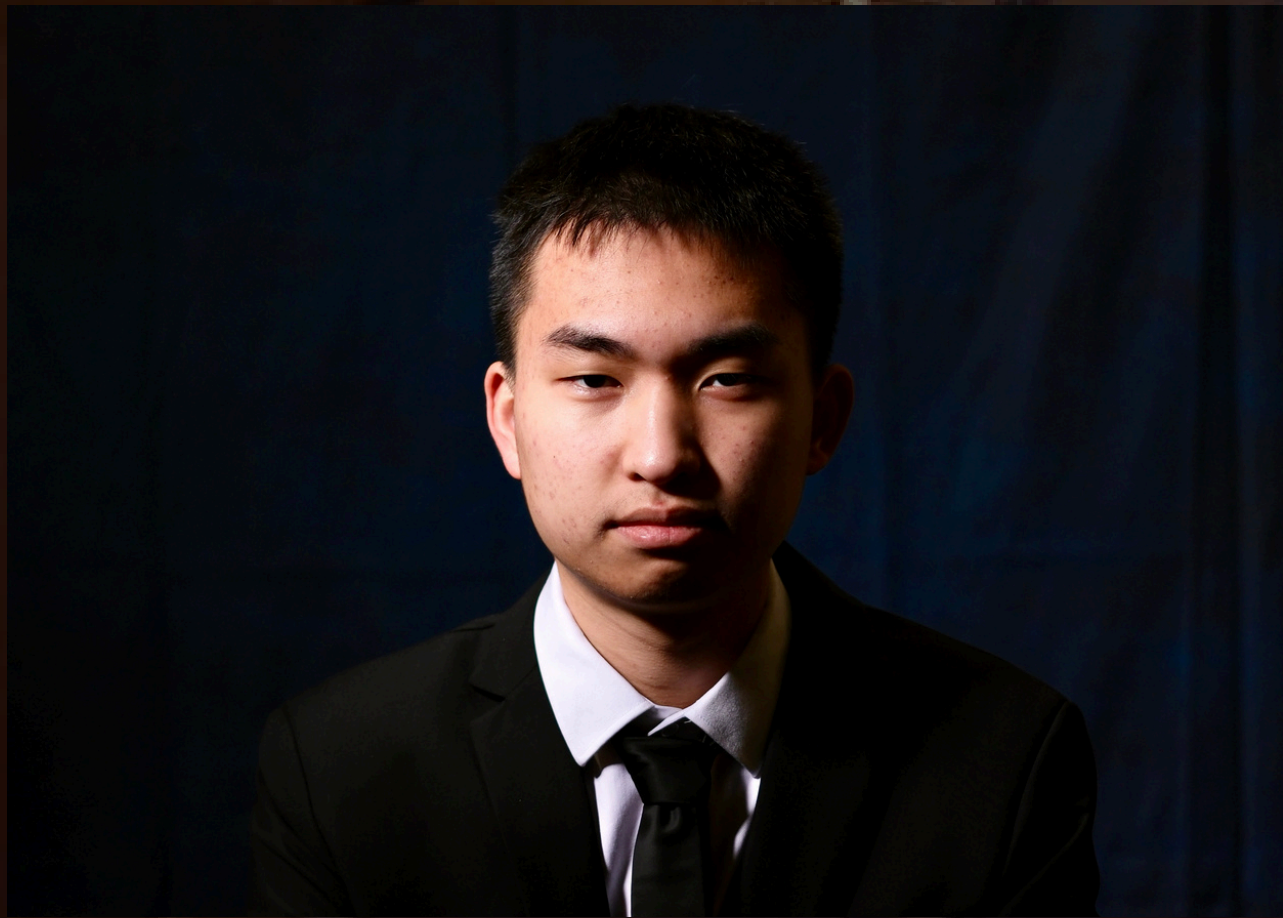

By the age of 13, she received the ARSM diploma in piano performance from the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music (UK). Her artistry has earned her numerous accolades, including awards at the Beethoven, Chopin, and Crescendo international competitions. Martina's achievements have culminated in a performance at the world-renowned Carnegie Hall in New York, showcasing her skills and musical sensitivity.

Martina's commitment to artistic excellence extends beyond piano to the graceful world of ballet. As a recipient of the Royal Academy of Dance Professional Intermediate Certificate in 2022, she has performed in popular productions such as The Nutcracker, Giselle, and Alice in Wonderland. Her elegant technique was recognized with the prestigious Showstopper's Platinum Award in the United States.

Martina also deeply values the power of the arts to inspire communities. She has participated in numerous charity performances, sharing her music and dance to bring joy and help to others. With them shaping her perspective, Martina approaches challenges with resilience, discipline, and a relentless pursuit of merit.

As she continues her journey as a multifaceted artist, Martina remains dedicated to sharing the beauty of her art with audiences around the world, embodying a spirit of creativity and compassion through all her passions.

Eric Lu

Schostakovich: Piano Concerto No.2 in F Major Op.102 II: Andante

Eric Lu is a passionate pianist whose talent and dedication to music have earned him recognition as a versatile and accomplished musician. As both a solo performer and an ensemble member, Chenyu is constantly exploring new ways to share his love for music and inspire audiences.

Chenyu's journey with the piano began at a very young age, when his natural talent quickly became evident. In China, he earned multiple awards in prestigious music competitions, showcasing his early promise. After moving to Canada, Chenyu continued to refine his skills, achieving notable success at the Kiwanis Music Festival and solidifying his reputation as a gifted and hardworking musician.

Beyond competitions, Chenyu has performed in concerts at various venues, connecting with audiences through his expressive and heartfelt playing. To broaden his musical experience, he also joined his school band, where he embraced the opportunity to explore diverse styles and genres, adding new dimensions to his artistry.

Looking to the future, Chenyu aspires to continue developing as a musician and using his music to bring joy and inspiration to others. Whether performing on stage, collaborating with fellow artists, or engaging with his community, he is dedicated to leaving a meaningful mark on the world of music. With his talent and unwavering commitment, Chenyu is poised to make a lasting impact as a pianist and a creative force.

Emma Wang

Chopin: Piano Concerto NO.1 (2nd mvt)

Emma Wang is a talented pianist whose artistry and passion for music have earned her widespread recognition and accolades in the classical music world. As both a soloist and a collaborator with orchestras. In addition to her musical accomplishments, she is deeply committed to using her platform to benefit the world, blending her love for music with a drive for social impact.

Emma's piano journey began early, and under renowned teachers, she quickly excelled. She won first place at the Little Mozart Competition, was a finalist at the Canadian Music Competition, and placed second at the Steinway Competition.

Inspired by her experience at the CMC, Emma created Concerto Pro in sixth grade—an app that plays the second piano part in concerto performances, transforming how musicians rehearse.

Emma strongly believes that music has the power to create positive changes. She tries to use her music to benefit her community and support important causes. One of her proudest accomplishments was hosting a charity concert for Backpack Buddies, an organization that provides food and essentials to children facing food insecurity. Through this concert, Emma raised funds and also raised awareness about the importance of supporting those in need.

Beyond music, Emma is a top-ranked debater and public speaker, competing at national and international levels. She uses her voice to inspire, lead, and advocate for meaningful causes.

As Emma continues to build her career, she remains committed to using her talents for the greater good. Whether through her performances, or technological innovations, she is determined to leave a positive mark on the world. With her combination of musical brilliance, innovation, and dedication to social good, Emma is determined to continue making an impact, both on the concert stage and in the broader world.

Gerieg: Piano Concerto in A minor, Op.16

With boundless passion and energy for classical music and piano performance, the young pianist Sunny has been bringing imagination, talent, and dedication to her music world through her renditions of diverse repertoires.

As an active performer, Sunny has graced the stages of Carnegie Hall and Musikverein Wien. Her dynamic presence is highlighted by two solo recitals in Vancouver in 2022 and 2023, as well as three piano concerto performances with the West Coast Symphony Orchestra and the Chilliwack Symphony Orchestra in 2022, 2023 and 2024.

Sunny was granted the associate diploma of the Royal Conservatory of Music(ARCT) in piano performance in 2022. She achieved Steinway Cup Champion proclaimed by Steinway Young Artist Club in June 2024.

Sunny's journey in music is furthermore marked by honors from many competitions and festivals. Her pursuit of classical music has been enriched by masterclasses with renowned pianists and professors.

In addition to solo piano performance, Sunny also has a passion for chamber music. She participated in the Sea to Sky Chamberfest at the Vancouver Academy of Music in both 2023 and 2024.

Aside from piano, Sunny studies flute, percussion, and composition, enriching her pursuit of music. She is a Gold Medal Recipient of the RCM Flute Level 10 category, and was invited to perform in the RCM Canadian National Celebration of Excellence Recital in Toronto in 2024.

Sunny is also very involved in her community through various charity works. Her performances at fundraising concerts and nursing homes bring joy to those who need it most. Moreover, her love for chamber music is reflected in her contributions to the musical community as a piano accompanist for her peers.

With a dream to pursue a career in classical piano performance, Sunny Li is admitted to The Juilliard School for Piano Performance, commencing September 2025.
